

Identifying Language Features in Persuasive Texts

Name: _____

Date: _____

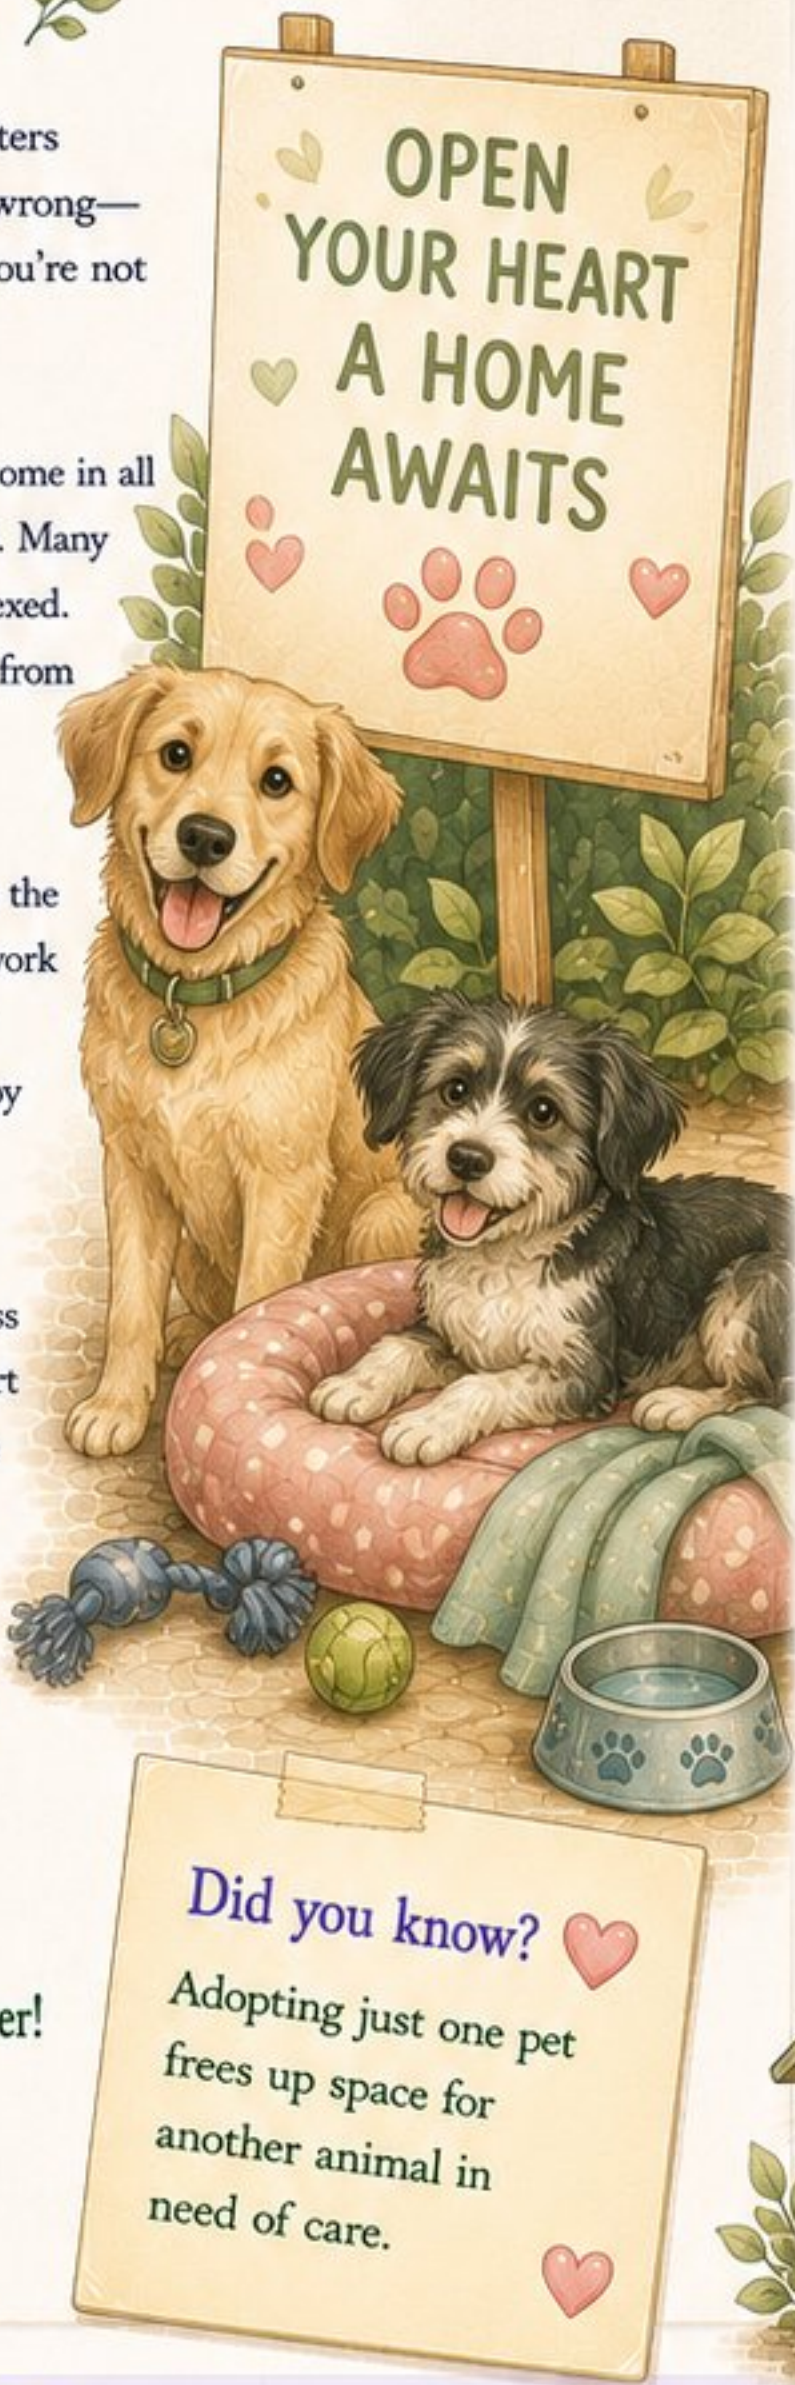

Class: _____

Read the persuasive text below and highlight the language features.

Adopt, Don't Shop!

Every year, thousands of amazing animals are left in shelters through no fault of their own. They didn't do anything wrong—they just need a second chance. When you adopt a pet, you're not just getting a companion, you're saving a life!

- 5 Shelter pets are already waiting for someone like you. They come in all ages, shapes and sizes, and they all have so much love to give. Many shelter animals are already vaccinated, microchipped and desexed. That means adopting is often cheaper and easier than buying from a breeder or pet shop.
- 10 Adopting helps more than just one animal—it makes room in the shelter for another pet in need. It also supports shelters that work hard every day with limited resources to care for animals. By adopting, you're saying "yes" to compassion and "no" to puppy farms and cruel breeding.
- 15 Think about the difference you can make. One act of kindness can change a pet's future—and your own. Pets bring joy, comfort and friendship into our lives. They don't care where they came from; they just want a safe place to call home.
- 20 It's time to change the way we think about pets. The best kind of pet isn't the most expensive one—it's the one who needs us the most.
- 25 Choose adoption. Change a life. Gain a best friend forever!

Highlight the language features:

- Emotive Language
- Rhetorical Question
- Statistics / Facts
- Inclusive Pronouns
- Imperative (Bossy) Verbs
- Triple (Rule of Three)
- Conjunctions
- Call to Action

How to use:

- Read the text carefully.
- Highlight each language feature in the colour shown in the key.
- Complete the table below by finding an example of each feature and explaining how it persuades the reader.

Language Feature	Example from the Text (Write or quote the words/phrase)	How does this persuade the reader? (Explain its effect)
Emotive Language
Rhetorical Question
Statistics / Facts
Inclusive Pronouns
Imperative (Bossy) Verbs
Triple (Rule of Three)
Conjunctions
Call to Action

Persuasive texts use powerful language to influence opinions and inspire readers to take action. Choose your words wisely!

Identifying Language Features in Persuasive Texts

Name: _____

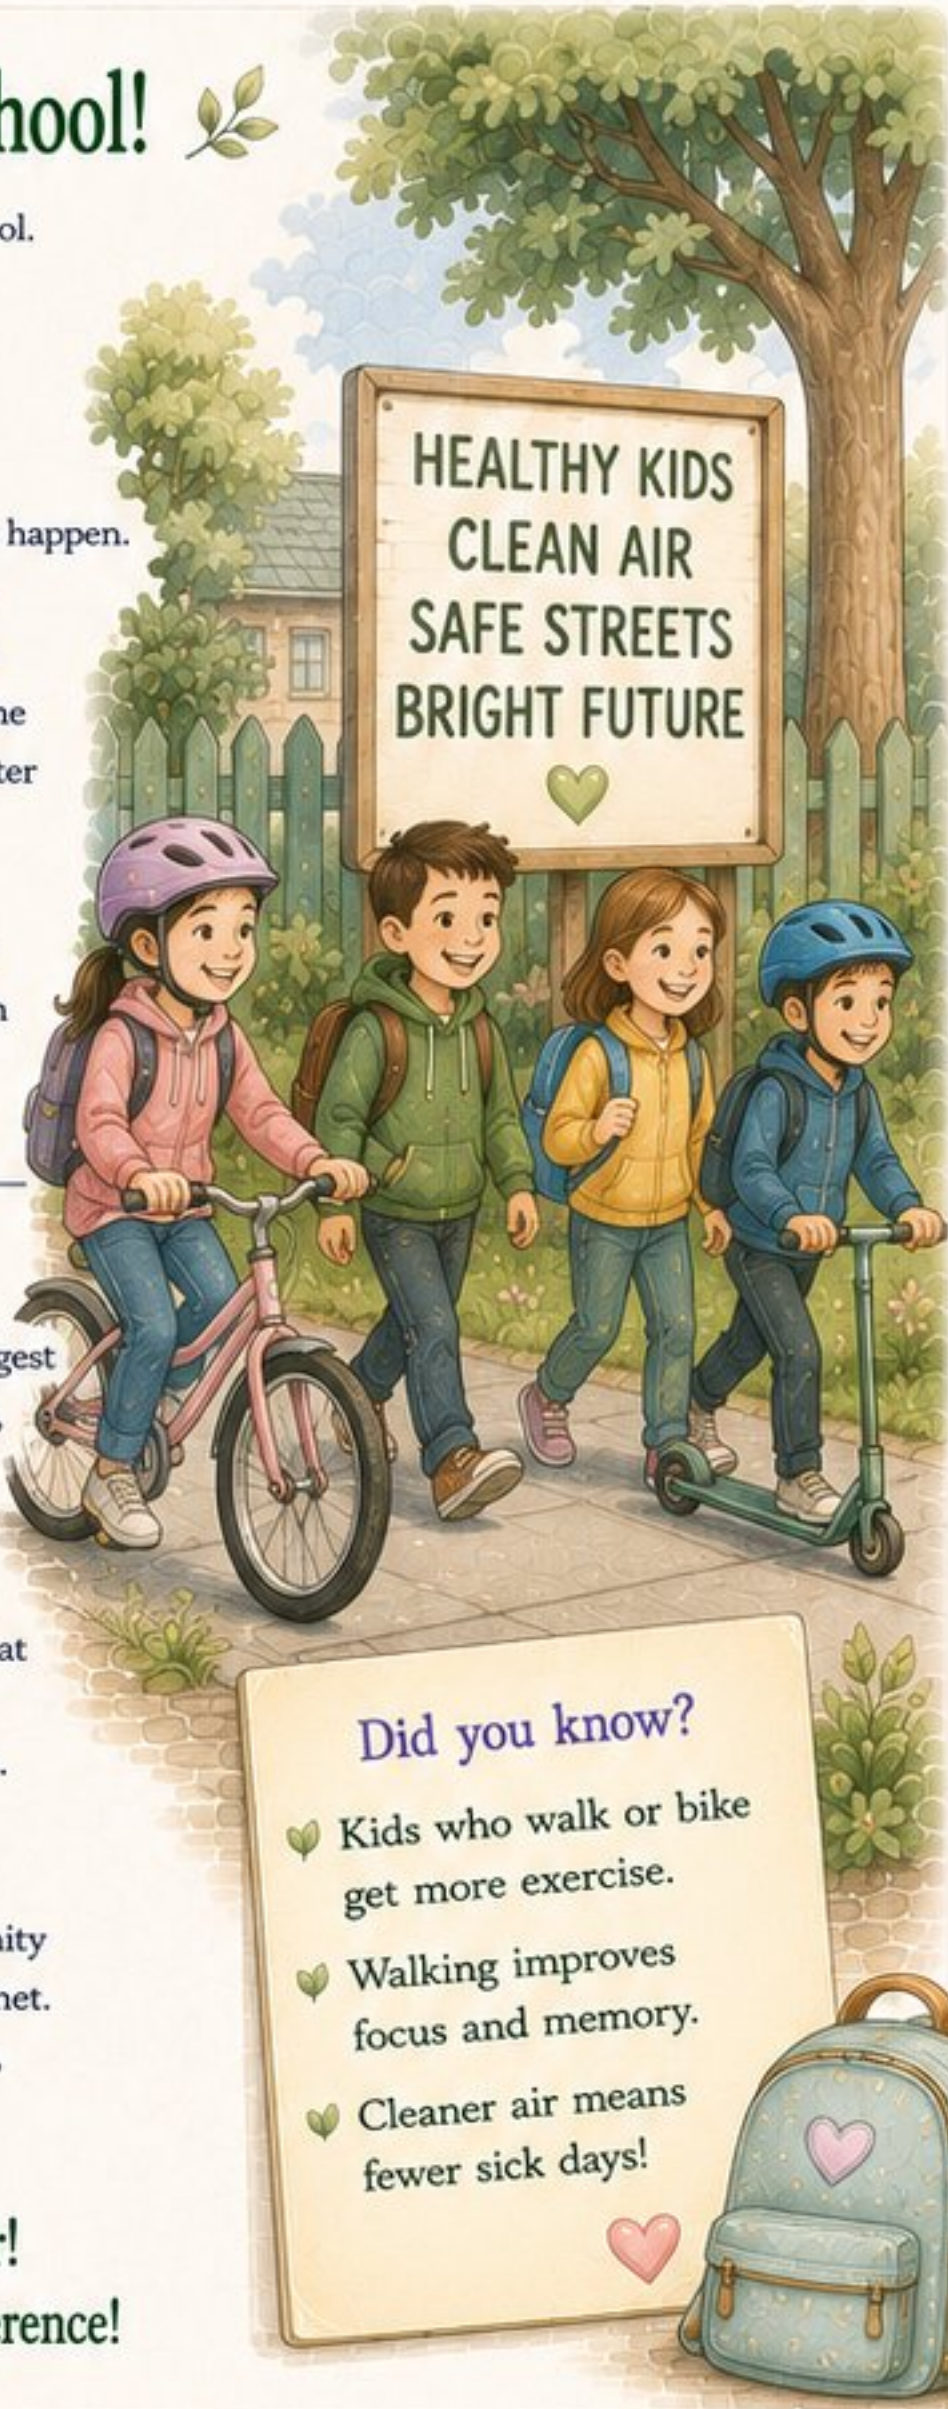

Date: _____

Class: _____

Read the persuasive text below and highlight the language features.

Walk or Wheel to School!

- Every school day, cars fill the streets outside our school. Engines idle, fumes fill the air and traffic builds up. There's a better way—one that's healthier, cheaper and better for our whole community.
- 5 When we walk, scoot or bike to school, amazing things happen. We get fresh air and exercise, which helps our bodies stay strong and our minds stay sharp. Just 20 minutes of walking can improve concentration and mood for the whole day. Starting the day this way helps us learn better and feel happier!
- 10 Fewer cars mean safer streets for everyone—especially our younger students. It means less noise, less pollution and a cleaner environment. In fact, a single car trip to school creates up to four times more pollution than walking or biking! That pollution doesn't just disappear—we breathe it in, and it harms our health.
- 15 It's also good for our planet. Transport is one of the biggest causes of climate change. If more of us choose to walk, scoot or ride, we can reduce greenhouse gas emissions and help protect the Earth for future generations.
- 20 Worried it's too far or not safe? You'll be surprised what you can do! You can park a few blocks away and walk the rest, ride with a friend, or join a walking school bus. It's fun, it's social and it builds independence.
- 25 Our school can lead the way! Let's show our community that we care about our health, our safety and our planet. Let's choose active travel and create a brighter, cleaner, healthier future for everyone.
- 30 Let's walk or wheel to school—together!
It's a small change that makes a BIG difference!

Highlight the language features:

- Emotive Language
- Rhetorical Question
- Statistics / Facts
- Inclusive Pronouns
- Imperative (Bossy) Verbs
- Triple (Rule of Three)
- Conjunctions
- Call to Action

How to use:

- Read the text carefully.
- Highlight each language feature in the colour shown in the key.
- Complete the table below by finding an example of each feature and explaining how it persuades the reader.

Language Feature	Example from the Text (Write or quote the words/phrase)	How does this persuade the reader? (Explain its effect)
Emotive Language
Rhetorical Question
Statistics / Facts
Inclusive Pronouns
Imperative (Bossy) Verbs
Triple (Rule of Three)
Conjunctions
Call to Action

Persuasive texts use powerful language to influence opinions and inspire readers to take action. Choose your words wisely!

Identifying Language Features in Persuasive Texts

Name: _____

Date: _____

Class: _____

Read the persuasive text below and highlight the language features.

Less Screen Time, More Family Time!

In today's world, screens are everywhere. Phones, tablets, computers and TVs are a big part of our daily lives. But are we spending too much time looking at screens and not enough time with the people who matter most? It's time to put down our devices and connect with the ones sitting right beside us.

- 5 Too much screen time can affect our health. Studies show that spending more than two hours a day on screens can lead to poor sleep, headaches, eye strain and less physical activity. It can also make us feel more stressed and less happy. Do we really want to risk our health for endless scrolling and mindless watching?
- 10 Screens don't just affect our bodies—they affect our relationships too. When we're focused on our devices, we miss out on conversations, laughter and precious moments. Think about family dinners where everyone is on their phone, or weekends lost to binge-watching instead of making memories. Our families deserve our attention.
- 15 Less screen time means more time for the things that truly matter. We can read a book, play a sport, go for a walk, cook together or just talk. These simple activities build stronger bonds and create memories that last a lifetime. Imagine a home filled with stories instead of silence.
- 20 Some people might say, "Screens help us learn." That's true—digital tools can be helpful. But balance is the key. It's not about never using screens; it's about using them wisely and not letting them control our lives.
- 25 Let's make a change today. Set screen-time limits, have tech-free meals and plan screen-free days. Your family will thank you, your mind will thank you and your future self will thank you.
- 30 Put down the screen. Pick up real life!

Highlight the language features:

- Emotive Language
- Rhetorical Question
- Statistics / Facts
- Inclusive Pronouns
- Imperative (Bossy) Verbs
- Triple (Rule of Three)
- Conjunctions
- Call to Action

How to use:

- Read the text carefully.
- Highlight each language feature in the colour shown in the key.
- Complete the table below by finding an example of each feature and explaining how it persuades the reader.

Language Feature	Example from the Text (Write or quote the words/phrase)	How does this persuade the reader? (Explain its effect)
Emotive Language
Rhetorical Question
Statistics / Facts
Inclusive Pronouns
Imperative (Bossy) Verbs
Triple (Rule of Three)
Conjunctions
Call to Action

Powerful persuasive texts use the right language to influence and inspire readers to take action.

Identifying Language Features in Persuasive Texts

Name: _____

Date: _____

Class: _____

Read the persuasive text below and highlight the language features.

Drink Water, Feel Great!

Water is something we all need, every single day. It keeps our bodies working well, our minds sharp and our energy high. Yet many students forget to drink enough of it!

- 5 Did you know that even mild dehydration can make it harder to concentrate, solve problems and remember things? Studies show that students who drink enough water perform better in tests and have more stamina during the day.
- 10 Sugary drinks and energy drinks might taste good, but they are full of sugar, caffeine and chemicals. They can lead to tiredness, headaches, tooth decay and even a higher risk of disease. Water, on the other hand, is free, healthy and always available.
- 15 Imagine trying to run a car without fuel. It wouldn't go far, would it? Our bodies are the same. Without water, we get tired, cranky and can't learn as well. Drinking water helps us:
- Stay focused in class
 - Think clearly and remember more
 - Keep our skin healthy
 - Stay active and energetic
- 20 Choosing water isn't just good for you—it's good for our planet too. Plastic drink bottles create waste that pollutes our oceans and harms wildlife. By choosing to refill a bottle, we help keep our Earth clean and beautiful.
- 25 It's an easy choice with huge benefits. Drink water. Feel your best. Do your best. Let's make water our go-to choice today and encourage others to do the same!

30 Small sips today, a healthier tomorrow!

Highlight the language features:

- Emotive Language
- Rhetorical Question
- Statistics / Facts
- Inclusive Pronouns
- Imperative (Bossy) Verbs
- Triple (Rule of Three)
- Conjunctions
- Call to Action

How to use:

1. Read the text carefully.
2. Highlight each language feature in the colour shown in the key.
3. Complete the table below by finding an example of each feature and explaining how it persuades the reader.

Language Feature	Example from the Text (Write or quote the words/phrase)	How does this persuade the reader? (Explain its effect)
Emotive Language
Rhetorical Question
Statistics / Facts
Inclusive Pronouns
Imperative (Bossy) Verbs
Triple (Rule of Three)
Conjunctions
Call to Action

Great persuasive texts inform, convince and inspire action!
Choose your words wisely and make your message powerful.

Identifying Language Features in Persuasive Texts

Name: _____

Date: _____

Class: _____

Read the persuasive text below and highlight the language features.

More Playtime, Better Minds!

It's time to bring back longer play breaks in our schools. Play isn't a waste of time—it's a powerful part of learning, health and happiness. Every student deserves more time to play every day.

- 5 Kids who play regularly are healthier. They are more active, sleep better and are less stressed. Play helps build strong muscles, boosts energy and improves focus in class. When we take away playtime, we take away a chance to be healthy and happy.
- 10 Play also helps us learn. When we play, we solve problems, get creative and learn how to work with others. Research from the University of Colorado found that children who have at least 20 minutes of unstructured play a day do better in reading, maths and teamwork.
- 15 Think about this: Would you rather sit at your desk for hours, or have time to run, laugh and make friends? Play breaks make school more enjoyable, which means students come back to class ready to learn. Happier students are better learners!
- 20 Some people say we don't have time for more play. But here's the truth—shorter play breaks lead to more disruptions, tired students and less learning time overall. Giving students more play can actually save time in the long run.
- 25 Other schools that have added extra playtime have seen amazing results: fewer behaviour problems, better concentration and happier students and teachers. It works—and it's time we did the same!
- 30 Our schools should be places where we learn, grow and thrive. Let's give every student the chance to play, recharge and succeed. More playtime today means a brighter tomorrow!

It's time to play for a better school day!

Highlight the language features:

- Emotive Language
- Rhetorical Question
- Statistics / Facts
- Inclusive Pronouns
- Imperative (Bossy) Verbs
- Triple (Rule of Three)
- Conjunctions
- Call to Action

How to use:

- Read the text carefully.
- Highlight each language feature in the colour shown in the key.
- Complete the table below by finding an example of each feature and explaining how it persuades the reader.

Language Feature	Example from the Text (Write or quote the words/phrase)	How does this persuade the reader? (Explain its effect)
Emotive Language
Rhetorical Question
Statistics / Facts
Inclusive Pronouns
Imperative (Bossy) Verbs
Triple (Rule of Three)
Conjunctions
Call to Action

Persuasive texts use the right words to influence our thoughts and actions!

Identifying Language Features in Persuasive Texts

Name: _____

Date: _____

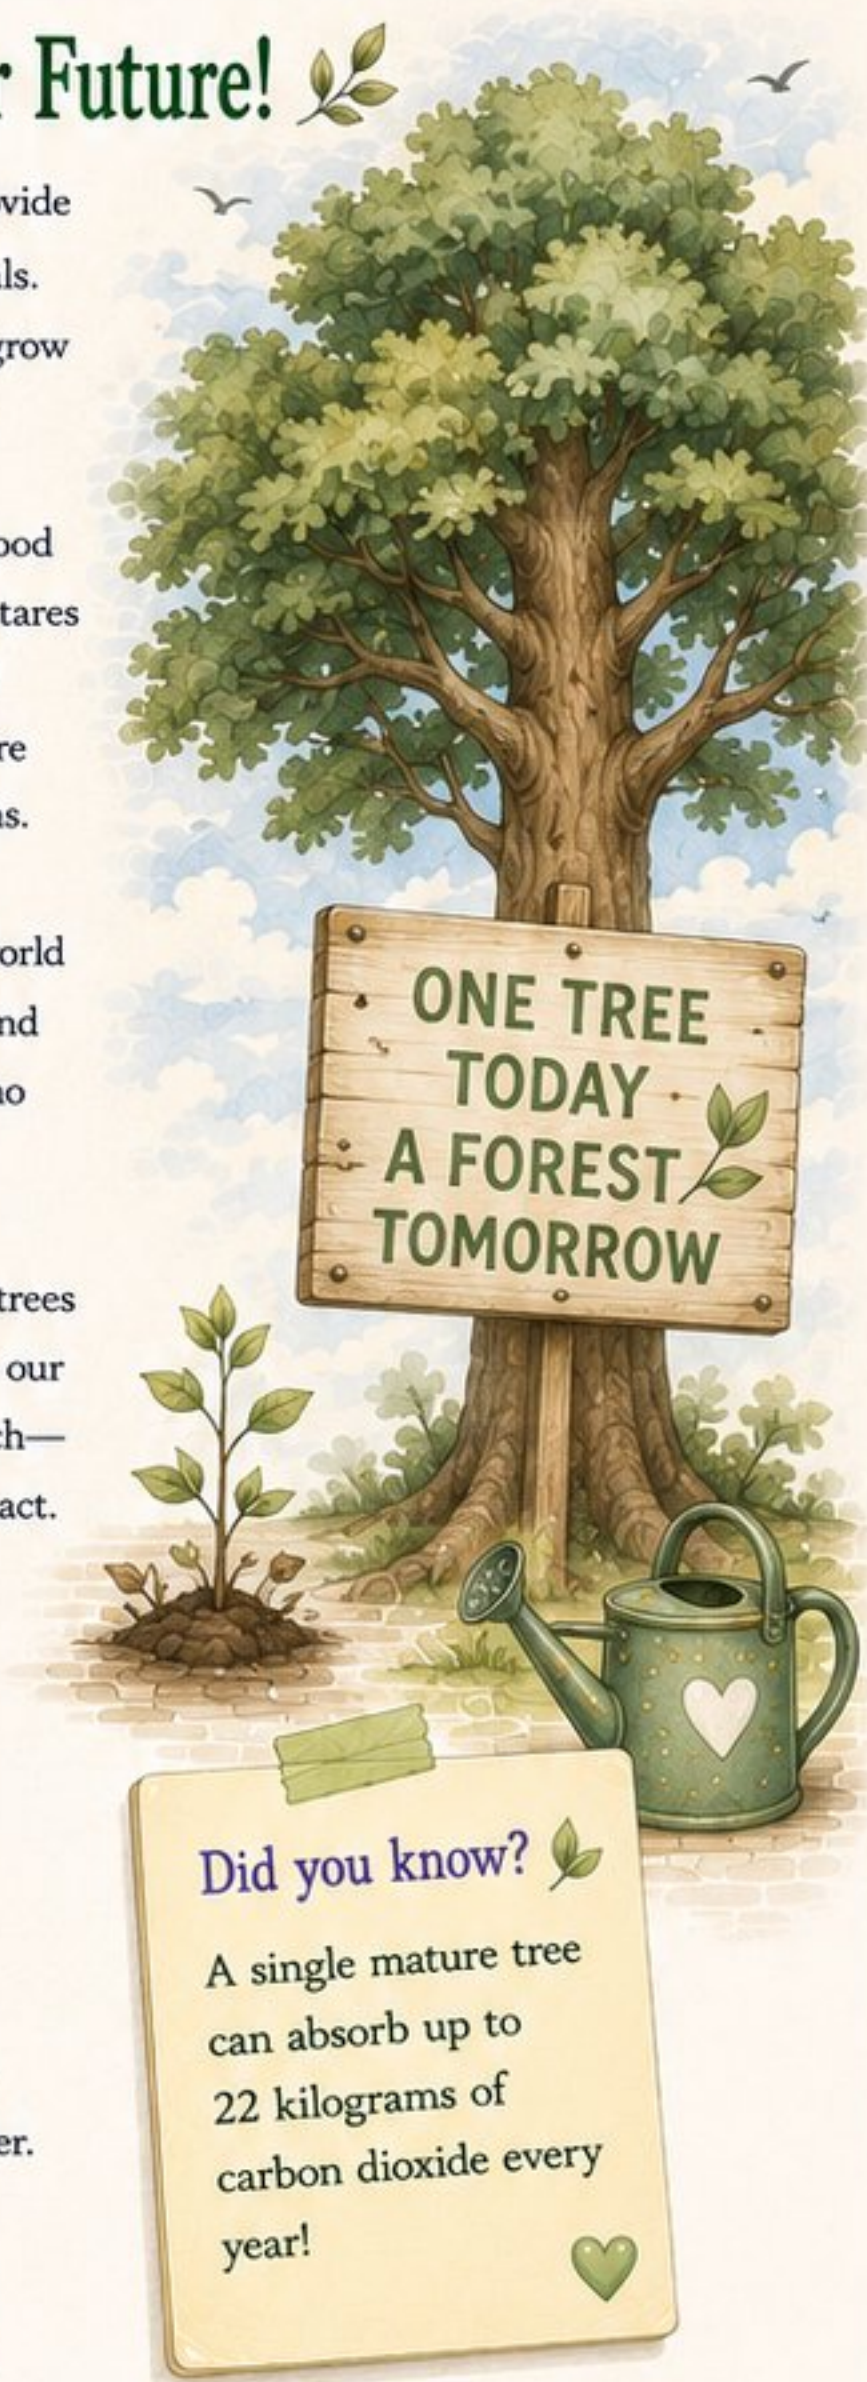

Class: _____

Read the persuasive text below and highlight the language features.

Save Our Trees, Save Our Future!

Trees are amazing. They clean the air we breathe, provide shade on hot days and give homes to birds and animals. But right now, we are losing trees faster than we can grow them back. That's a problem we can't afford to ignore.

- 5 Every year, millions of trees are cut down for paper, wood and land. In fact, the world loses around 10 million hectares of forest every single year. That's like losing 30 football fields of trees every minute! Without trees, we face more pollution, hotter temperatures and even stronger storms.
- 10 Think about our future for a moment. What kind of world do we want to live in? One with clean air, cool parks and beautiful forests—or one with dry land, dirty air and no shade on a scorching summer day?
- 15 The good news is, we can make a difference. Planting trees helps fight climate change, protects wildlife and makes our communities healthier and happier. It doesn't take much—just a small action from all of us can create a huge impact.
- 20 We can all do something:
- Plant a tree at school or at home.
 - Look after the trees in our parks and streets.
 - Use paper wisely and recycle.
 - Speak up and encourage others to care.
- 25 Our planet is our only home. Trees have been here for millions of years, and they need us now more than ever. It's time to act, before it's too late.
- 30 Let's grow a greener tomorrow—together!

Highlight the language features:

- Emotive Language
- Rhetorical Question
- Statistics / Facts
- Inclusive Pronouns
- Imperative (Bossy) Verbs
- Triple (Rule of Three)
- Conjunctions
- Call to Action

How to use:

1. Read the text carefully.
2. Highlight each language feature in the colour shown in the key.
3. Complete the table below by finding an example of each feature and explaining how it persuades the reader.

Language Feature	Example from the Text (Write or quote the words/phrase)	How does this persuade the reader? (Explain its effect)
Emotive Language
Rhetorical Question
Statistics / Facts
Inclusive Pronouns
Imperative (Bossy) Verbs
Triple (Rule of Three)
Conjunctions
Call to Action

Great persuasive writing uses powerful language to change minds and inspire action!

Identifying Language Features in Persuasive Texts

Name: _____
Date: _____
Class: _____

Read the persuasive text below and highlight the language features.

Keep School Libraries Open!

School libraries are much more than rooms full of books. They are places where minds grow, imaginations soar and futures begin. That's why it's so important that our school keeps its library open—now and for years to come.

- 5 Some people think we can save money by closing the library. But is saving a few dollars worth losing so much? Studies show that students who have access to a school library read more, achieve higher grades and develop stronger research and critical thinking skills.
- 10 Think about what the library gives us every day:
- A quiet place to read, learn and focus.
 - Access to books, magazines and reliable information.
 - Help from friendly staff who guide us and support us.
 - A space for all students to explore their interests.
- 15 Without a library, many students won't have access to books or quiet study spaces at home. That's not fair. Every student deserves the chance to learn, discover and dream big.
- 20 A strong school library doesn't just help students—it helps our whole school community. It brings people together, supports teachers and creates a love of learning that lasts a lifetime. Our school library is an investment in our future. Let's keep it open, well-resourced and ready for every student who walks through the door.
- 25 Don't close the door on opportunity. Let's keep our library open!
- 30 Our library. Our future. Keep it open!

Highlight the language features:

- Emotive Language
- Rhetorical Question
- Statistics / Facts
- Inclusive Pronouns
- Imperative (Bossy) Verbs
- Triple (Rule of Three)
- Conjunctions
- Call to Action

How to use:

1. Read the text carefully.
2. Highlight each language feature in the colour shown in the key.
3. Complete the table below by finding an example of each feature and explaining how it persuades the reader.

Language Feature	Example from the Text (Write or quote the words/phrase)	How does this persuade the reader? (Explain its effect)
Emotive Language
Rhetorical Question
Statistics / Facts
Inclusive Pronouns
Imperative (Bossy) Verbs
Triple (Rule of Three)
Conjunctions
Call to Action

Strong arguments use powerful language!
Highlight, analyse and see how words can make a difference.

Identifying Language Features in Persuasive Texts

Name: _____

Date: _____

Class: _____

Read the persuasive text below and highlight the language features.

Ban Plastic Bags: Choose to Reuse!

Every minute, around one million plastic bags are used around the world. That's one million bags in just sixty seconds—bags we use for a few minutes, but that can last for hundreds of years!

- 5 Plastic bags may seem convenient, but they have a huge cost. They pollute our oceans, harm sea animals and break down into tiny pieces called microplastics that end up in our food and water. Do we really want a future like that?
- 10 The good news is, we can make a change—and it's easier than you think! By choosing reusable bags, we can reduce waste, protect our environment and create a cleaner, healthier world for everyone.
- 15 Some people say reusable bags aren't worth the effort. But think about it: using one strong bag again and again saves money, reduces litter and helps our communities look better. It's a small change that makes a BIG difference.
- 20 Governments, schools and businesses are already leading the way, but we all have a part to play. Every time you shop, you have a choice. Will you choose to help the planet, or continue the problem?
- 35 Join the movement today. Say no to plastic bags and yes to a better tomorrow. Our planet can't wait—let's act now!

Think about it...

A plastic bag is used for minutes.

It can last for hundreds of years.

Highlight the language features:

- Emotive Language
- Rhetorical Question
- Statistics / Facts
- Inclusive Pronouns
- Imperative (Bossy) Verbs
- Triple (Rule of Three)
- Conjunctions
- Call to Action

How to use:

1. Read the text carefully.
2. Highlight each language feature in the colour shown in the key.
3. Complete the table below by finding an example of each feature and explaining how it persuades the reader.

Language Feature	Example from the Text (Write or quote the words/phrase)	How does this persuade the reader? (Explain its effect)
Emotive Language
Rhetorical Question
Statistics / Facts
Inclusive Pronouns
Imperative (Bossy) Verbs
Triple (Rule of Three)
Conjunctions
Call to Action

Persuasive writers use language to convince, influence and inspire their readers!

Identifying Language Features in Persuasive Texts

Name: _____

Date: _____

Class: _____

Read the persuasive text and highlight the language features.

How to use:

1. Read the persuasive text carefully.
2. Highlight each language feature in a different colour.
3. Complete the table below by writing the example and explaining how it strengthens the argument.

Why Every School Needs a Garden

Imagine a school where fresh vegetables grow, butterflies dance, and students learn with their hands as well as their minds.

Why wouldn't every school have a garden?

A garden is more than a patch of soil—it is a classroom, a playground, and a place of peace.

Gardens help us learn. Studies show that students who garden score up to 20% higher in science tests.

Gardens help us live better. Students who grow their own food are more likely to eat fruits and vegetables and feel healthier.

Gardens help us feel better. Time in green spaces reduces stress, boosts mood, and builds stronger friendships.

A garden brings more than just benefits for us—it helps our planet too. Plants clean the air, bees find food, and our school becomes a home for amazing creatures.

You, our students, can make it happen. Imagine planting, watering, weeding, and watching life grow—together.

A garden teaches responsibility, patience, and care.

Let's dig in, grow together, and make our school a place where everyone can thrive.

Ask your teachers, talk to your principal, and get involved.

Our school can be greener, healthier, and happier—starting today!

Let's plant the seeds of change and watch our future bloom.

Suggested Highlighter Key

-  Rhetorical Question
-  Emotive Language
-  Direct Address
-  Facts and Statistics
-  Repetition
-  Modal Verbs
-  Rule of Three
-  Call to Action

Language Feature	Example from the Text (Write or quote the words/phrase)	How does this strengthen the argument? (Explain its effect)
 Rhetorical Question
 Emotive Language
 Direct Address
 Facts and Statistics
 Repetition
 Modal Verbs
 Rule of Three
 Call to Action

Great writers use persuasive language to convince and inspire their readers!

