

INFORMATION WRITING

Structure and Organisation

Information writing gives the reader facts about a topic. ❤️

A good information text has 5 important parts.

1 TITLE

What is it about?

The title tells the reader what your information text is about. ❤️

Example

Koalas

(The title tells us the topic.)

2 INTRODUCTION

What is it about?

The introduction gives some general information about the topic. 💙

Example

Koalas are cute animals that live in Australia. They sleep a lot and eat leaves.

3 SUBHEADINGS

What will I learn?

Subheadings tell the reader what each part is about. 💜

Example

Subheadings could be:

- Where Koalas Live
- What Koalas Eat
- Koalas and Babies

Where Koalas Live

What Koalas Eat

Koalas and Babies

4 INFORMATION

Tell me the facts!

This part gives facts and details about each subheading. 💛

Example

Here you write many facts and details to teach the reader about your topic. Use simple sentences.

5 CONCLUSION

Finish it up!

The conclusion is the last part. It finishes your text. 💖

Example

Koalas are amazing animals. We can help keep their homes safe.

GOOD INFORMATION TEXTS...

- ✓ Have a clear title
- ✓ Give lots of facts
- ✓ Use subheadings to organise
- ✓ Are written in the right order
- ✓ End with a conclusion

INFORMATION WRITING

♥ Language Features ♥

Writers use special words and phrases to give facts and information clearly. ★

Good language helps the reader learn!
