

PROCEDURE WRITING

Structure and Organisation

A procedure tells you how to do something. It has steps in order. ♥

A good procedure has 3 main parts.

1 GOAL

The goal tells the reader what the procedure will help them do.

It is usually the first sentence.

Example

Today, I will show you how to make a delicious fruit salad.

2 STEPS

The steps tell the reader what to do. They are written in order.

Use numbers or words like first, next, then, after that, finally.

Example

- 1 First, wash all the fruit.
- 2 Next, cut the fruit into small pieces.
- 3 Then, put the fruit into a big bowl.
- 4 After that, mix gently.
- 5 Finally, enjoy your fruit salad!

3 CLOSING

The closing is the last sentence.

It finishes the procedure.

Example

Now your fruit salad is ready to eat.
I hope you enjoy it!

GOOD PROCEDURES...

- ✓ Have a goal (tell what it is)
- ✓ List steps in order
- ✓ Use time words (first, next, then, after that, finally)
- ✓ End with a closing sentence

PROCEDURE WRITING

≡ Language Features ≡

Good language helps the reader know what to do and in what order. ❤️

Procedures use special words and phrases to give clear instructions. ⭐

1. TIME WORDS

These words tell the reader the order of the steps.

Examples

First, Next, Then,
After that, Finally

2. ACTION VERBS

These doing words tell the reader what to do.

Examples

mix, stir, pour,
cut, bake, spread

3. IMPERATIVE VERBS

These verbs give commands or instructions. They tell the reader what to do.

Examples

Wash the apples.
Cut the toast.
Put the bread on the plate.

4. DESCRIBING WORDS

These words give more information about what to do.

Examples

Use cold water.
Stir gently.
Bake until golden brown.

5. ADVERBS

These words tell how to do something.

Examples

Stir slowly.
Mix well.
Cook carefully.

GOOD PROCEDURES USE LOTS OF GREAT LANGUAGE!

- ✓ Use time words to show order.
- ✓ Use action and imperative verbs.
- ✓ Use describing words.
- ✓ Use adverbs to tell how.
- ✓ Write in clear, short sentences.
